) is it possible to stop this. A: I have an Office Excel 2010 set to "Compatibility Mode" with Excel 2013. I didn't know this was possible until I got an error message. In Excel 2013, hit CTRL-I and the menu item is at the bottom of the list. Hit ALT-L and this gives you the options to run an Office 2003 style installer for compatibility or to run Office 2010/2013 installers. When you do the install, it will warn you of any pending Office updates. I am doing this on a Mac and have an iPhone; however, the procedure should be the same on any version of Windows. The second season of the MMA reality show "The Ultimate Fighter" will feature 12 new competitors with a UFC contract, multiple sources told MMAjunkie.com (www.mmajunkie.com). The 12 new competitors join the seven competitors already selected by show host Dana White, who has said he hopes to add a few more to the mix this fall when filming begins on the 10th season of the series. The latest roster additions were confirmed to MMAjunkie.com by a number of sources involved in the production of "The Ultimate Fighter" (TUF). Among those with contracts for the new season are last season's bantamweight finalist Austin Arzen, who will compete in the lightweight division. The newest addition also included former WEC champion and top 185-pound contender Kenny Florian, who will appear in the featherweight class. The latest additions will be featured on the debut episode of "The Ultimate Fighter: Brazil" which will be broadcast on HDNet on Aug. 3. In addition to Arzen and Florian, season-long cast member Mackens Semerzier will compete in a welterweight bout. The eight other competitors featured on "The Ultimate Fighter: Brazil" will be featured in the 12th season of "The Ultimate Fighter," which will begin filming in December and air in 2009. Both White and UFC president Dana White's brother Lorenzo, who produces the series, have said repeatedly the newest season will feature the "fight of the century." Stay tuned to MMAjunkie.com for more details. A total of 25 fighters were expected to compete on this season of "The Ultimate Fighter
