The main problems with cleaning private data are, that there are hundreds of programs out there for cleaning private data, but most of them just clear private data stored by a specific program. That is very annoying, because you need dozens of separate programs to keep your system clean. The idea of Hurby is to break this down to one program with several plugins. In most cases, it is not very hard to remove unwanted data from your system, most programs store this information in the registry or in ini-files. The major intention was to create one software that cleans any kind of unwanted stored personal information such as MRU (most recently used) lists or search histories. Currently there are 4 plugins in this package: ⬚ Irfan-View recent files cleaner ⬚ Total-Commander ini-file cleaner ⬚ Virtual-Dub MRU cleaner ⬚ Windows recent-documents cleaner Hurby Details: Another major advantage of this program is, that it is not always necessary to have a full fledged virus scanner like NOD32 installed, because Hurby comes with its own built-in heuristic and cutting-edge engine to find all kind of unwanted and even unknown programs. The main target users are novice users, but if you want to give the program a try, the user interface is easy to understand and the product is a good value. Hurby's biggest drawback is that it makes use of up to 17 different anti-virus solutions to determine if a specific file is safe to open or not. As a security technology developer myself, I find it very easy to use the program and can recommend it to anyone who wants to see if they are using the right anti-virus software.10 Actors Who Were So Good, They Left Us Wondering Where The Screeners Are For every great actor, there is a con artist, liar, whore, and all-around shitty human being.
