EximiousSoft GIF Creator is a simple and convenient program for making your own animated GIFs. Using this software is easy as can be, even for people without any experience in graphic editing tools. The program interface is indeed quite simple and resembles that of a graphic editing tool. So, you can create a frame (blank, selected or any other image), duplicate a frame, add frames from images, reverse their order or arrange them in the animation. Evidently, you can use basic image editing tools, such as rectangle, lasso or magic wand selection, resize and rotate pictures, as well as add image objects, symbols and text. However, you can also use a pencil, eraser, flood fill and color picker, draw a rectangle, ellipse or polygon, as well as zoom in and out. Furthermore, you can set the image's transparency level, add a shadow and apply effects (e.g. fade, turn page, rotate, zoom, spin 3D). In addition, you can optimize the GIF animation (e.g. set the dither intensity and colors) and preview it in the web browser, resize the animation and canvas, export image frames and export the animation to HTML, and others. The program runs on a moderate amount of system resources, includes a complete help file for beginners and has a pretty good response time (EximiousSoft GIF Creator may temporarily freeze when you're trying to optimize or preview the animation). All in all, EximiousSoft GIF Creator is a very good program for building and designing animated GIFs and we strongly recommend it to all user levels. What's New In?

EximiousSoft Png Picture Editor is a new and useful application that allows you to edit and even convert different pictures formats, such as JPEG, PNG, BMP, TIFF, JPG, GIF, PCX, DIB, EMF, PICT, WMF and TGA. Pictures are composed of pixels - some of which are white, some of which are black. A picture is also a set of pixels. But to calculate what a picture looks like we need to consider two things. Firstly, we need to consider the pixels that are light and dark and the ones that are white or black. The second thing we need to consider is the distribution of colors. If we look at a picture, we see mainly three different kinds of colors: bright, intermediate and dark. In a picture, we might see lots of bright colors and only a few dark ones. That's because the bright colors are more transparent than the dark ones. That means that a bright color can go through a dark one without being seen. If we take a color from the darkest areas of a picture, and another one from the brightest, we see that the color of the darker one is darker than that of the brighter one. The same thing is true with intermediate colors. A dark color is always darker than a bright color and a bright color is always brighter than a dark one. In Png Picture Editor you can see the RGB channels (Red, Green and Blue) and the Grayscale channel. You can also change them from RGB to Grayscale, which means the program won't display the RGB data in the picture anymore. To convert a picture from one format to another, you need a program that reads all the data and writes all the data into the new picture format. Png Picture Editor offers all these options and much more. So you can convert pictures and images from the most common formats to PNG, BMP, JPG, GIF, PCX and TGA. First of all, there's no need to install the program. Just unzip the file and double-click on the executable file. You'll see the main window with all the necessary tools to convert your pictures. There are five tabs in the main window. In the first tab you can choose an image from your computer or choose an image from the file system and you can also edit this picture. The second tab is used to convert your
