November 21, 2020 - PDF | The neural network has a complex structure. It is made up of a group. fig.2 Artificial neuron model (Satish Kumar, 2014). In the brain, neurons are connected by synaptic connections, resulting in a complex network. A neural network has two important properties: • neural networks are able to learn and improve themselves; • neural networks can combine information coming from different neural networks. Like humans, the brain is made up of individual brain cells. In the brain, there are connections between cells, that is, synapses. A synapse is a contact area between two neurons where signals are exchanged. Fig.
