Vediamo (Vediamo Software) is a software system designed to diagnose and develop electronic control units of motor vehicle engines and turbochargers, in Italy. The word comes from the Italian language, in plural, vediamo is used to define a group of people who see the same thing. Vediamo is the most advanced software for electronic control units and the only one developed in Italy. Vediamo allows to look at the interior parameters and obtain a complete report on the engine's behavior in real time. The objectives of the system: to track the vehicle systems parameters, especially the ones related to the engine, that are made available in the central vehicle diagnostic . to provide the engine parameters detection in real time, and the system's ability to provide information on the vehicle configuration (cabin, steering wheel, hood, and tire pressures) are automatic. This contributes to a better planning of servicing, maintenance, and spare engine switch-off. When the vehicle checks itself, it can work in the emergency mode when the vehicle is immobilized, in order to solve the basic failure. Vediamo is developed in collaboration with the Fondazione Carlo Sesto, Fondazione IDIA, and Fondazione Ada Coloni. - Vediamo is a robust and reliable diagnostic software, that allows to obtain a global, clear image of the vehicle health, and report all the information related to the engine and its vehicle systems, as well as the vehicle's status in real time - Vediamo provides a set of functions to check the engine efficiency, the vehicle systems parameters, and the vehicle's performance - Provides a set of functions that allow to monitor the vehicle in the active mode, in such a way that the engine can diagnose and develop itself in the real time - Provides a set of functions to monitor the vehicle in the maintenance mode, that allows to diagnose and develop itself in real time the vehicle by analyzing the engine in the way of being maintenance mode - Provides a set of functions for the battery state detection, which can indicate the possible failure of the vehicle system - Provides an application for engine's development that allows to diagnose and develop the engine unit - Develops and diagnoses the electronic control units of turbochargers, which provides this software a better diagnostic tool - Develops and diagnoses the electronic
