Windows Vista Customization Pack Product Key is one of those applications which are widely used and basically does the same as its predecessors, however, this one has some new features which are entirely cool. What's new? ● Interface customizations: The users will get the ability to change the desktop wallpaper and screensaver. They can also use this pack to optimize the desktop look, by specifying the color scheme they want to use. ● Other customizations: Other than the interface customizations, the users can also enable or disable some of the most important features of Windows. ● Vista customizations: This pack is not only for the interface customizations, but also enables the users to customize the Vista look and feel. ● Wow: Vista Customization Pack Product Key has now a tool called Wow, which helps the users to create amazing and cool desktop effects. To be able to install it, users will first have to download the pack by running the setup file. Once the installation is complete users will be able to find the Visual C++ Runtime installation files at the following folder on their desktop: C:\Program Files\Microsoft Visual Studio 8\VC\redist Vista Customization Pack being a customer-based application it needs the rights to perform installations, and by default it uses the Administrator account. If users want the program to run with another account, it is recommended to choose the Full installation, which will also keep this account so users are able to install the program for other account as well. After the installation is complete, users will have to reinstall the redistributables, and after that they will have to run the installer for Vista Customization Pack once again, just to ensure that everything is working fine. If the users find that a feature is not working properly or that they need to change something else, they can open the Registry Editor and find all the details there. For that, users will need to run the program as Administrator. When Vista Customization Pack is finished, users can see their new interface by opening the program and selecting the Interface tab. If users want to see some of the best Vista interface customizations, they can preview several of its options in the new Live Preview tab. Windows Vista Customization Pack interface Customizations The interface changes are really subtle and simple, and users will not notice that something has changed when they open up a new window or start a new program. You can use a few of the available tools such as RegCure, Total Commander (TC) and REGCleaner. Each of these tools can save you hours of work and correct quite a few errors in your registry. Only try a registry cleanup tool with a few test files. Check the program's capabilities before installing, as you can spend hours getting it to do what you want! REGCleaner is one of the best tools you can use to repair your computer registry. It is very handy, affordable and efficient. The value of the REGCleaner program is its innovative and simple registry repairing functions. It can repair your registry in two different ways: Part 1 - A window opens up, and you can select the location and size of the backup. There is also an option for you to browse to your other hard drives and folder. Part 2 - You can initiate the repair by pressing the button at the bottom-right of the program. If the program detects any damaged registry registry keys, the program will repair them. There is a progress window available on the program's status bar, letting you know whether the repair has been successfully done. REGCleaner will guide you through the entire repair process, even if you are a novice computer user, and will fix any registry problems that you might have right from the start. You can even choose to automatically scan your disk for damaged files, which will greatly reduce the time you need to spend repairing your registry. No one knows the exact number of hours we save each year by using a website that will answer our questions about how to repair and fix a registry, but it is estimated to be several hundreds of hours. Totally safe, as it will only install the necessary software files on your computer, and nothing else. We have
