The casino complex was owned by the Mohegan Tribe of Connecticut, and operated by the Mohegan Tribal Gaming Authority. On October 7, 2011, the Governor of New Jersey, Chris Christie, with the consent of the state's Indian gaming tribes, announced that the state and tribes had reached an agreement in principle, on a deal to build a casino on the 13-acre Mohegan Sun casino site. The state also promised to carry out a $2 billion capital improvement program in Atlantic City. The tribe agreed to contribute $90 million to the capital improvement program. The state and tribes reached a similar agreement on the Cayuga Indian Nation's complex at the Revel Casino, which had also been under development since October 2011. History The Mohegan Sun complex was built in Atlantic City and opened to the public on May 31, 1988. The casino was originally named Resorts Atlantic City. It originally included a hotel, which was called Resorts Casino Hotel and was opened on May 4, 1988. Construction was plagued with numerous problems. It was initially designed to have a capacity of 10,000 patrons but opened with only Transducers are one type of sensor commonly used to convert mechanical energy into electrical energy. A wide variety of transducers exist, such as microphones, speakers, vibrating structures used in imaging devices, etc. The particular configuration of a transducer determines whether the transducer may be used as a microphone or a speaker, and whether the transducer may be used to detect a particular motion or direction of motion. The operation of many transducers can be described as an electrical standing wave, where standing waves are waves which sustain their shape while propagating, as opposed to propagating waves which are undulating. Transducers have several common characteristics. First, they require an input source, such as a microphone or a speaker. Second, in order to be operated effectively, the transducer has to be in a particular environment, such as an acoustic free-field (air), a water filled reverberation chamber, or any other fluid-like medium. Third, transducers are passive devices that convert mechanical energy into electrical energy. Finally, they are complex systems which rely on the transfer of energy to the environment in order to generate an electrical output.
