I'm not so sure about spending a fortune on a air/gas compression setup for 400g rather than 1kg+! To me, the benefit is more about having the highest stage pressure possible, and then maybe doing a little over-pressurizing on top. 1 meter is too long when you are doing this. A local guy sold me a small 0.3m low-silent chest compressor setup. I have the perfect car for it, a modified 1989 BMW M
