Keymacro can be used by anyone! I'm a newbie to iTunes 11, but after experiencing some weirdness with the old interface, I just couldn't wait for this new version to come out. I downloaded it a while ago and thought it would be my Christmas gift, but after being disappointed in it, I decided to revert back to the old iTunes. But one thing still holds me to iTunes 11, and that is the podcasts. I've been using the iTunes on Mac as my sole podcast player for quite some time, and so far, the service has served me well. I mean, it's not perfect, but iTunes is doing a very good job of grabbing the best podcasts from iTunes Store, and it is very easy to set them up as a podcast. iTunes 11 released a month ago, but I was still having issues with getting the podcasts show up on my iPhone, not on iTunes for Mac, but on my iPhone. It turned out to be my network service provider, and not iTunes. In iTunes 11, when you plug your iPhone to iTunes and select it as a source to download podcasts, it would open iTunes on my Mac and ask me if I want to download the new podcasts. That didn't happen on my iPhone though, and I'd always get a message to either turn off "Sync Podcasts" or log into my provider's website and turn it off. Fortunately, iTunes 11 seems to have fixed this issue. I can download podcasts from my iPhone to my Mac, and when I click on a podcast, it will open on my iPhone and give me an option to download it to my iPhone. Now, I'm not sure whether all the podcasts that I had downloaded from iTunes Store in iTunes 11 were being downloaded into my iPhone from iTunes 11, but there is a new feature for podcasts in iTunes 11 called Subscriptions. When you open iTunes 11 for the first time, you will see a new podcast app called "iTunes for Podcasts". The app will open a popup asking you if you want to subscribe to some podcasts or not. This is where you can choose to download certain podcasts you like from iTunes Store into your iPhone. ABOUT RADIOSKY RadioSky is a leading source of media 1d6a3396d6

I'm trying to load the file into a Pandas DataFrame, but I can't for the life of me figure out how to convert it into a list of integers. Here is a random sample of the data: '100002,100030,100031,100032,100033,100000,100001,100002,100003,100004,100005' So what I would like to get back is: [100002,100030,100031,100032,100033,100000,100001,100002,100003,100004,100005] I've tried `df.iloc[:, 3]` which gives me a string of numbers, but they don't match the string I listed above. I also tried `df['id'] = df['id'].apply(lambda x: [int(i) for i in x])` but that didn't work. Is there a quick and dirty way to do this? A:

What's New in the FLV To MP4?

FLV To MP4 converts your favorite FLV movies to MP4 files. The tool can be deployed on all Windows versions out there. It takes nothing more than a simple and fast installation process where you only need to press on a few buttons in order to gain access to the program's GUI. The layout looks easy to decode so you are not going to spend a lot of time getting an idea about where to get started. A help manual is not embedded in the package, but you can learn to configure conversion jobs in a short amount of time because the dedicated parameters look highly intuitive.
