The AutoCAD application consists of two main parts: An environment with the drawing application, drawing tools, 3D and 2D editing tools, plotter, etc. A Back Office with tools to edit, manage, and modify drawings, parameters, and drawings settings. Customization AutoCAD provides a number of customizations such as: Customizable menus, toolbars, menus, 3D views, and other user interface elements Toolboxes Extensibility Many add-ons and customizations are possible. AutoCAD comes with several ready-to-use add-ons available for download. AutoCAD is also extremely extensible, with an online forum for users to post questions and create solutions to problems that users face. AutoCAD Extension Manager was developed for this purpose. Extensibility also allows AutoCAD to be customized, with various add-ons that are sold directly by Autodesk and third-party companies. The add-ons are typically developed for specific purposes such as facility design, civil engineering, landscape architecture, architecture, engineering, etc. More add-ons are currently available than for any other CAD program. "I can't be the same, because I was good. I just have to find ways to be better. That's all I can do. But I'm going to go out there and give it my all." Durant suffered a strained left calf muscle in Game 5 of the Western Conference finals against the San Antonio Spurs, and he hasn't played since. He averaged 28 points in the Warriors' three-game victory over the Cavs, but the five-time All-Star is averaging 18.8 points per game this postseason and is shooting 37 percent from the field and 39 percent from 3-point range. "I'm good, I'm really good," Durant told ESPN.com. "I'm like the first guy to take it [the shooting percentage] and bring it up." Durant said he has no plans to modify his shooting technique, even though he is shooting fewer jumpers than he normally would. He is also attempting fewer 3s, but that's a tribute to the improved defense that the Cavs have provided. "We've just got to make the extra pass, not just the isolation pass," he said. "We've got to make the extra pass, the extra shot, to find guys who are open. It's easier for me to say that now than it was last
