A: You should use the correct Include to select the correct one. Select the Include which is used to build your batch. If the batch is for myitems.sdf then use File > Open from Disc > Interface > Include If the batch is for the same folder then use File > Open from Disc > Interface > Include > Custom My personal advise is to use the Custom Include as this lets you change the settings of each operation. To set all operations in the batch just check your included include. Make sure that the setting is checked. You may have other post procesors installed
