Navi-X Features: - Multimedia Collection - Batch Music Finder - XBMC Info - YouTube: - Episodes - Last.fm - Dailymotion - Image Gallery - Video Gallery - iTunes Store: - Top Rated - Movies - TV Shows - Songs - RadioQ: What's the best way to manage Azure Event Hub - which queues to delete? In my Azure project I have created an Azure Event Hub, both EventHubConsumerGroup and EventHubListenerQueue. They both have a delete-button in the upper right corner What happens if I press this? Do they get deleted automatically? If not, how long do I have to wait? Can I delete them after 24 hours? A: By default, EventHubConsumerGroup and EventHubListenerQueue take more time to deleted.You can check the current time at the upper right corner,and the time will be not limited.When you press the Delete button, it will be not delete immediately.It will delete in a reasonable time. Q: Is "An alligator caught on camera" a valid English sentence? I wonder about the correct way to form a sentence of this kind. A: It's normally understood that alligators are single word nouns. Some of them even have articles. "The alligator caught on camera" is a perfectly acceptable sentence. I would expect it would be more likely "An alligator caught on camera" rather than "An alligator caught on camera". I can't think of any cases where I would use "a" instead of "An", for "universes" or "universes". A: "An alligator caught on camera" is a valid sentence. An is used to represent the generic "universe" of "alligators" which may or may not include some individual case. You may or may not mean to refer to a specific example. The use of a is far more specific, i.e., you mean to refer to a specific example. It 09e8f5149f
