Search form Statement On The Meeting in Moscow Statement on the meeting in Moscow Following the meeting between two Russian and Ukrainian leaders on July 8 in Moscow, MFIFA expressed serious concern about the fact that Russia secretly held another meeting in Moscow on July 8, with the participation of the leaders of the two parties without informing the MFIFA. Such actions taken against Ukrainian MFIFA is in complete contradiction with the decision of the international community and the Ukrainian court as well as with Ukraine's Constitution. After the meeting, Russia denied the fact that the meeting had taken place. At that time, the MFIFA's representative noted to the Russian Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov that the MFIFA believes that any government bodies which are recognized by the international community and the Ukrainian legal system should have participation in negotiations between the two governments. As it is known, the Russian Federation, by the actions it has taken, do not respect the obligations undertaken by it under the existing agreements and commitments signed in Minsk. The MFIFA will not remain silent in the face of the Russian Federation's actions and will continue its own efforts to find a positive resolution of the conflict, thus contributing to the peaceful and democratic development of the Ukrainian state and bringing more and more of its people closer to the European way of life. Real estate agent Joan Kammerer prepared to sell her Highland Park, Illinois home in 2013. The buyer mentioned that he and his girlfriend owned a lake house in California. Kammerer prepared to sell her home for $475,000. But then, on June 15, 2013, she received a call from a California detective. They thought a dead body was sitting in her living room. She told the detectives to come over with a search warrant. The warrant allowed police to search the home -- but not enter -- without a crime having taken place. Not long after the California detectives left, a police detective 09e8f5149f

Adobe's branded icons are some of the most prominent icons that you'll need for your business application. Icons are the essential graphical symbols that interface touch-friendly software to help users identify the program being used. They should be the first thing you pay attention to in a brand new application in order to help you decide what the software provides. If an icon is not what is expected, you can automatically dismiss a program you are having trouble using. However, a missing icon can also be an indicator that a program is not well-designed. These icons in this collection are all the same in all file formats, some of which are designed in the original Adobe Illustrator format. A good way to test them is to create a new document in Adobe Illustrator. Click the Open icon to open the program and use it to create a new document. Then, using a text tool, put every icon into the document and save it as a png. If they all show up, they are ready to use. Adobe's Icons: A variety of icons are available in this collection.
