Netflix and Amazon Prime Video are good examples of streaming services that offer paid access. How you watch movies and TV shows is changing. More and more services are allowing you to pay for your entertainment on a monthly basis instead of buying individual titles. These services often provide a subscription for a variety of different services, each of which provides access to different TV channels, movies, music, books, games, apps and more. Where to get Netflix for free? Most streaming services allow users to access their content for free. But for a limited time each year, users can subscribe to Netflix and get their service free. Additionally, many premium cable networks like HBO, Cinemax and Starz are free to
