Root Game Preview: Spring Green at UB Game Preview: Spring Green at UB While many Big Green fans are still sore about losing to Buffalo last week, the team has come into game three with a fresh start. "The coaches went into practice after the game and said we had a lesson to learn," said Saginaw Valley State head coach Ted Tomczak. "I think they are just trying to draw that lesson from that game." In the offense, QB Noah O'Neill started the team's first two games but went down with a knee injury against Buffalo. But he is healthy again and will be the signal caller against the Thunderbirds. "Noah is great in our offense," Tomczak said. "He brings a lot of confidence to the offense." In the defensive backfield, SMU will run an occasional nickel defense but they will also play man to man coverage against Saginaw Valley State. Both CBs have solid games against the Thunderbirds and the team has another option in the slot in Chris Rosa. "We're happy with our secondary," said Tomczak. "We feel like we are deep there and we feel like Chris Rosa is ready to step up and be one of our play makers." The
