"Many years of work went into developing our all-new engine," said Christoph Hartmann, FIFA Executive Producer. "The engine is now perfect to showcase next-generation features like our brand-new Move Engine and Phantom Engine 2." More than 100 kits, players, training tools, all-new stadiums and more have been added to the game. The Ultimate Team update, along with the game's newly refreshed look, will be available first to FIFA Ultimate Team users beginning September 1, 2016, and will be released for FIFA 20 Ultimate Team users in the fall.
