Can you please explain what DWG is? What is the difference between a 2010 and 2015 Edition of Print2CAD? Do either of them do DWG? Yes, a professional use icon is missing, but icons are not that essential. I can't see any direct difference between the 2010 and 2015 editions, they are both DXF based programs. The Professional use icon is missing, because it is no longer available for the Professional grade version. It was a request from all the other users of Print2CAD and was implemented in the last release. If you want to print in two colors I would recommend Scribus which you can download from the website of the Free Software Foundation. This is a set of Postscript tools. I do not know if Scribus is available for Windows, but it is for Linux, Mac OS X and probably Windows. Also this is an Open Source program and you can verify their GPL code. As far as I know Scribus has no DWG support. Good luck with your project, if you are able to develop a plugin for Scribus you could easily add this functionality to the Print2CAD program. Thanks for the reply. What do you mean about printing in two colors? I can only print in grayscale with Print2Cad. As you can see from my other posts in this group I am trying to find a good CAD alternative. I do not see any reason why I would need to do a DWG to PDF conversion. The major difficulty is the fact that the original WinZip program has not been modified since 2009. I have not found any newer programs that have the same functions. I use Print2CAD because it is free, does not require an internet connection and it worked pretty well on my last project. I will try to save my.PDF file as a.DWG. This might just work. I do not know but I have a really good feeling about this approach. As you know we have to pay a lot of money for a license to use AutoCAD. I am trying to think of a way to do this project without it. Thanks again. You want a dual color print, or a print that has the same color in every sheet, so it's not a grayscale print, but have two colors on the same page (assuming you're using a different color for each page). 1cdb3666d

Procedure Video How often should you fast during surgery? It's been our experience that in the immediate post-op period, patients may be thirsty or have increased dietary demands. Patients may also be given bismuth subsalicylate or Tums® because of the symptoms of gastric acidity. Several tests may be performed at various times of the day to rule out anemia, an ulcer or acute pancreatitis.Q: Ionic 4 Setting RadioButton Checked I'm trying to implement two radio buttons in my ionic 4 app. I'm using the since I want the first radio to be disabled, and then I want to check which radio button is checked in the (change) event of the second radio. My problem is that checking the second radioButton with this code let color = _this.colorService.getColor(this.color); this.radioButton.checked = color === 'red'; doesn't work. If I try to console.log(this.radioButton.checked) it returns true, but I want it to return false. If I try to console.log(_this.radioButton.checked) or console.log(color) both return false. I have tried to change the checked value to false or true and it didn't work. What I'm doing wrong? Thanks!
