1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a recording medium, which is readable and writable by a computer and on which video data, audio data, and the like, for example, is recorded, as well as to a data structure on the medium. The present invention also relates to an information recording method and apparatus, as well as to a data structure. 2. Description of the Related Art Hitherto, there has been known a technique for creating a new file in a recording and/or reproducing apparatus on a recording medium on which video data, audio data, and the like, have been recorded. For example, a new file is created in a recording and/or reproducing apparatus in accordance with a drag and drop operation performed on a recording medium on which video data, audio data, and the like have been recorded. As a further example, a user uses a recording and/or reproducing apparatus to perform a copy process by which a file already present on a recording medium is copied onto a new recording medium. However, when a new file is to be created in a recording and/or reproducing apparatus as described above, an input operation is necessarily performed by a user. This may prevent an operation at the device from being performed swiftly. Further, when a copy process is to be performed by using a recording and/or reproducing apparatus, for example, when a copy operation is performed by dragging and dropping a file from a list screen of the apparatus, the position of the dragged-and-dropped file is often at a position other than the desired one. The dragged-and-dropped file will be moved to the desired one only when the user performs an input operation. Therefore, when a copy process is to be performed, an input operation is inevitably performed by a user. This may prevent the user from performing a speedy operation at the device. The present invention has been conceived in view of the above problems, and an object of the invention is to provide a recording medium, an information recording method, an information reproducing apparatus, and a data structure, which allows a user to perform a speedy and efficient operation at a recording and/or reproducing apparatus.Microvilli of the light zones of the outer segment of carp rod cells.
