The data is id userId val ----- 1 1 100 2 1 200 3 1 300 4 2 500 5 2 600 6 2 700 what i want is if a particular user ( say userId = 1) has more than 2 val then he should only be marked as TRUE otherwise as FALSE i.e the output should be as userId val ----- 1 True 2 False I know how to do it in case where we have no matching on the userId. but i am not getting idea how to iterate over the entire row and then return TRUE or FALSE A: I would recommend a left join against a subquery. Something like this: SELECT t.userId, t.val, CASE WHEN t.val IN ( SELECT val FROM table WHERE val = t.userId ) THEN TRUE ELSE FALSE END AS flag FROM table

Failed to connect to the decompression process : java.net.SocketException: No space left on device I'm using a mac. A: It might be your disk space problem. You need to run Download & Install Selenium 2.0 Or Try to change your browser Browser type to Firefox & Save it Do you like to spend your spare time online? Are you a web master and have developed a site or a blog? Do you not know what a proxy is? Are you unhappy with the amount of traffic or sources your site gets and would like to increase it? Do you read every article and advice you get on how to better your blog and internet presence? You need a site proxy to help you. But what is a website proxy exactly? What is a Website Proxy? A website proxy is a tool that allows you to mask your true IP address. When you access the internet from a proxy server you cannot be identified. Most people utilize this anonymity and do not know they are using a website proxy. By masking your IP address you can maximize your chances of being able to gain traffic to your website. Having a website proxy enables you to gain access to hidden sources that you might not be able to access otherwise. How can a website proxy be useful for you? By hiding your IP address you will have a great effect on what you can access and even what you can post on the web. When you want to search for something online you can use a search engine to find what you want. Most of the time, a search engine will return something and give you a good service. But what if you are not happy with their results and would like to see another? This is where a proxy will be of use. When you are using a website proxy, you can switch your location to one outside of the U.
